TWO HEAVYWEIGHTS VISIT WINDY CITY

Jack Johnson Has More Trouble Over His Theatrical Engagements.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 5.—Chicago has entertained two heavyweight champions during the past week. Jim, or James J. Jeffries, retired and undefeated champion of the world, and Jack Johnson, the black champion, were both here for a brief stop this week and both got a half column of guff in the local papers about their fitness to fight and also their individual prowess.

Jeffries said that the one man to know his real condition was one James J. Jeffries, and that this same person has assured him, (James J.) that the retired champ was in great condition and getting better every day. Jeff says his theatrical season will soon be over and he will then get down to hard work. Johnson was here to attend another variety of trials with which he is entertaining the public these days. This time it was neither an auto speeding arrest nor an attachment of baggage. The manager of the Alhambra theater claimed to have a verbal contract with Windes for a temporary injunction restraining the negro from appearing in any other theater. Judge Pett refused to see it in the same light when the permanent injunction came before him. He said that the complainant had failed to show sufficient reason why Johnson could not appear in any other theater but the Alhambra and the fighter was released.

The classes have been graded by director Mitchell according to the ability of the members and the prospects are good for a winter of successful work.

ENGRAVER, A LONG SHOT, WINS IN JUAREZ

Gunstan Was Played Heavily to the Advantages of the Bookmakers.

Engraver, a long shot, won the sixth race Tuesday at the Mexican track. Engraver opened at 10 to 1, was boosted to 25 to 1 and closed there. Little play was made on this horse for Gunstan was a hot tip and heavily played by the crowd. Gunstan opened at a high price but was backed down to a 5 to 2 offering at post time and was played strong at this figure. So strong was the hunch on this horse that there was little scattered play on the other horses and Engraver, a good thing at 25 to 1, was practically neglected in the betting, few having any money on the long shot. This is the second time such a coup has been pulled off at the meeting to the great advantage of the bookies.

Cold Day.
A small crowd attended the races in spite of the fact that it was free day for women again. Cold and uncomfortable in the grandstand, watching the ponies run was not a particularly pleasant sport Tuesday. It was also a cold day for the top price jockeys. None of the clever riders at the track were able to pull over anything yesterday with the exception of Benscoten, who rode Sevenfull to a winning in the fifth race. Orbicular, the horse, that won the El Paso Fair handicap, was the winner in the over night handicap for three-year-olds and up. He was ridden by Moleworth and finished first ahead of Early Tide and Lady Esther.

EL PASO HEADS BOWLING LIST

Is at the Top of the League Among Texas Y. M. C. A. Teams.

Thursday night El Paso will again be called upon to defend its title to the topmost position in the Texas telegraphic bowling tournament. The team which represents the El Paso Y. M. C. A. is now the only team having a perfect score. The local five men team stands at the top of the list with a 1000 percent chalked up against it. Six other teams in the 19 team tournament have a standing of 750 percent, while the remaining three have three ciphers to show how they stand in the list.

The El Paso team has played three games and won each of them. Ennis, Waco and Houston have each been defeated by telegraph when playing with the El Paso five. Houston is the strongest opposition the local team has for the title of the best bowling team in the Texas Y. M. C. A. and the deciding games will probably be played between these two teams. Thursday evening El Paso will play Childress. The standing of the teams in the league is as follows:

Teams.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
El Paso	3	0	1000
Houston	2	1	750
Dallas	2	1	750
Beaumont	2	1	750
Fort Worth	2	1	750
Waco	2	1	750
Temple	2	1	750
Childress	2	1	750
Ennis	0	3	000
Cleburne	0	3	000

LEAGUE UMPIRES FORM A TRUST

Men Who Handle the Indicators Are Clamoring for More Pay.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 5.—An umpire trust. Can you beat it?
From the winter quarters of the loud mouthed boys who handle the indicators in the National League comes the rumor that there is to be an umpire's trust and a subsequent strike. Klem, Riger and Hank O'Day are said to be the boosters of the trust. These men claim that they are not being paid enough real money to not being paid enough hands each day of the baseball season and go forth and defy the enemy to said enemy's face.

There is a bare possibility that the election of Tom Lynch as president of the National League and his inaugural address in defense of the umpires had something to do with the demand of these same referees that they be paid more money. It is thought that president Tom will be able to adjust matters without any real blood being shed.

CHRISTY MATHEWSON IS NOW WRITING BOOKS

Famous Pitcher of New York Giants Gets Into Literary Hall of Fame With Bat Nelson.

New York, N. Y., Jan. 5.—"Matty" is writing a book. His title is to be Christy Mathewson, world's champion pitcher and literary light. The great book pitcher is writing a series of books for boys of all ages. His stories are to be the life history of a young man who comes out of the west and goes to college on a pitching arm and a natural baseball ability. The books are to follow the career of the young baseball hopeful through his college days and Mathewson is spending his winter days in the literary light. His copy is being edited by W. W. Aulick, a New York newspaper sport writer, and the books are to be known as "Matty Books" and are to appear in a series. It is said that Mathewson's stories bear a close resemblance to the experience of a certain well known pitcher in the major league who gets his name in the box score every time the Giants play an important game. In February and the father of the fade away will take his place along with Hon. Bat Nelson in the literary hall of fame.

SNYDER, THE UMPIRE, HAS LEFT FOR THE FAR EAST

W. H. Snyder, who is well known as an amateur umpire among the local baseball fans, left El Paso Tuesday for the far east, which means Bradford, Pa. He has gone to take a place as traveling salesman for a cutlery company and will travel out of Bradford selling knives and forks to the wholesale trade. Before coming to El Paso Snyder worked as substitute for the Washington Americans and is one of the best of the assorted variety of indicator holders who worked here last season.
